What is the Case Management Program for the Frail Elderly?

Case Management is a program to coordinate community services. The goal is to provide supportive services to help you remain in your home.

What Does It Cost?

There are no income guidelines and no cost to participate in the Case Management Program. There may be fees for individual services. Medicare or Medicaid may cover the cost of some services or there may be a sliding fee scale. Some participants will be eligible for the Medicaid Elderly Waiver to cover the cost of services.

How Does It Work?

In order to understand your needs, a visit will be arranged in your home. You will be asked questions to assess your situation. One person will be your Case Manager.

Your Case Manager will arrange for the services you choose and will continue to be available to coordinate these services and act as your advocate. You and your family will choose which services you receive.
